OPPOSED BY JONES

He Says Industries of Tidewater Virginia Threatened With Absolute Extermination.

MILLIONS NOW INVESTED

Measures Would Transfer Control From States to Federal Government.

Washington, D. C., February 28.—The entire fishery industries of Tidewater Virginia are threatened with absolute extermination by the probable passage of one of the two bills now before Congress introduced by Congressman Linthicum, of Maryland, providing regulations for the industry, according to Congressman William A. Jones, of Virginia, who, as a member of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisherice, has attended the hearings on the bills and vigorously opposed their passage.

The two bills before the House committees provide that fertilizer and oils manufactured from food-fish shall be excluded from interstate traffic, and to transfer to the United States Department of Commerce absolute and exclusive control over the fisheries of the country, taking away the control now exercised by the different States.

The object of the first bill may be entirely proper, but Mr. Jones believes its constitutionality is more than doubtful. He feels more certain that the second bill is entirely unconstitutional, and has prepared a brief to present to the committee within the next few days citing decisions of the United States Supreme Court and other courts, showing that it is impossible for the Federal government to exercise control over fish and waters with-in State limits, under the Constitution, Under Federal Control.

Under Federal Control.

If the second bill passes and its constitutionality is affirmed by the courts it will mean that the vast fishing interests within the tidewaters of Virginia, in which the State new has absolute control, will be turned over to the single department of the Federal government, which department is au-thorized to make all rules and regula-tions governing the same.

All the revenues now derived by the several States from their fishing in-dustries will be taken from them and turned into the Federel Treasury, and the people of Virginia will be permitted to take fish from their waters according to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Commerce may pre-

This would affect all the people of the State, Mr. Jones declares, since it would deprive the State of one of its in Eastern Virginia of their means of livelihood. In two counties of the First Congressoinal District alone there are employed several millions of dollars of capital in the Menhaden fisheries industry. Mr. Jones believes that the Federal

Mr. Jones believes that the Federal department would impose regulations on the industry which would be a great hardship. Meetings have been heard in favor of the measure from Maryland, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Virginia is placed in a peculiar position in regard to this bill, as it is believed that its real purpose is to place the regulatory power in the hands of

Mr. Jones has raised before the com-mittee the question of the constitution-ality of this proposed act, and he pro-poses to discuss this legal question at length before the hearings are over. He has been promised time by the com-mittee to do so, and expects to make a long legal argument the first part of next week.

Mr. Jones claims that there is an unbroken line of decisions which hold that Congress has no power under the Constitution to regulate or control the fisheries of the several States.

Stewart E. Bowen Tenth Person Killed Starting Fire With Kerosene.

Winchester, Vn., February 28 .- Stew-Thursday, when he poured kerosene oil on a singrish kitchen fire, died this morning in Memorial Hospital from the effects of the burns. After pouring oil on the kindling wood and while holding the oil can in his hands, ie applied a match to the wood. There a great flame, which caused the to explode, scattering oil over his body. Like a human torch, he ran and dived headleng into a snewbank, and neighbors beat out the fire. It was thought he had a good chance to recover, but uremic poison developed late last night, and he sank rapidly. He leaves a widow and two daughters, Misses Agnes and Esther Bowen, the latter of Brunswick, Md., and also his father. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, February 28.—The attitude of the Wright Company in demanding a 20 per cent royalty from all manufacturers of flying machines has created a storm of criticism. The general consensus of opinion is to the effect that this percentage is so prohibitive that it will retard the progress of aviation in this country.

The Burgess Company has issued a long statement in which it says:
